IMPORTANT — PLEASE READ FIRST

This report is a data-organization document. It transcribes and charts the values from the lab PDFs you provided, next to each lab's own printed reference range. It does not interpret those values, diagnose any condition, or prescribe any treatment, dose, supplement, or action. Every number and every range shown here is copied directly from your source lab reports. Review all results with a licensed physician, who is the appropriate person to discuss what they mean for you.

BIOMARKER TRENDS

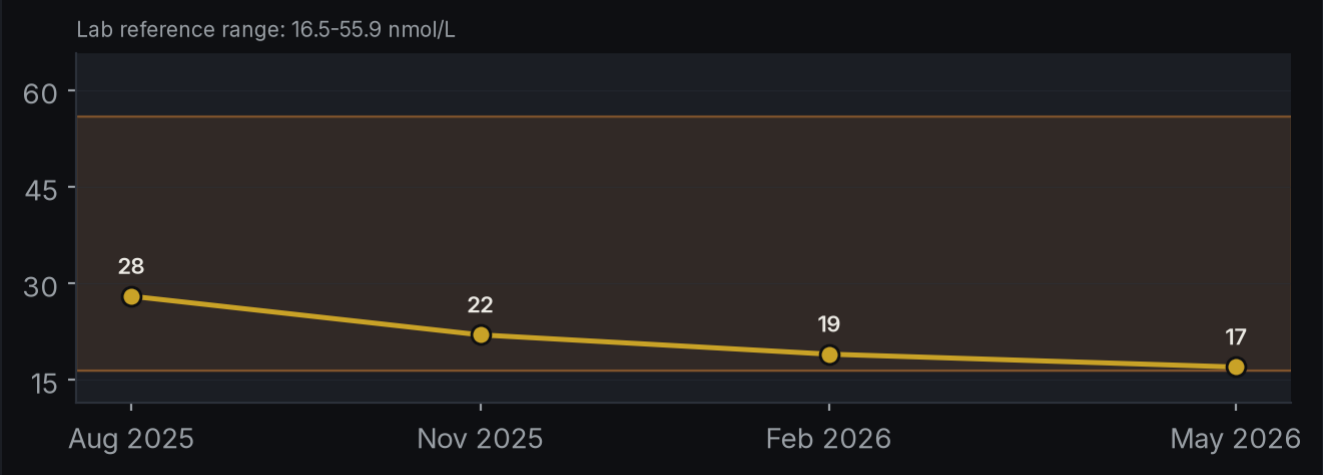

Each chart below shows one biomarker's values across your draw dates. The shaded band is the reference range printed on that lab's own report. A point drawn in ember falls outside that printed range; a point in gold falls inside it. The number beside each point is the transcribed value for that draw.

Bring this to your physician.

This timeline was built for one purpose: to put your own numbers in front of a licensed physician in a single, readable document. Bring this report to your next appointment. The reference ranges shown are the labs' own; the values are yours, transcribed from the PDFs you provided. Any question about what a value means for you is a question for your physician.

A SEPARATE OPTION

Want a guided, plain-language walkthrough of this report? Vitalis Forge offers coaching as a separate service — a conversation about your own data, distinct from this document. For what your results mean medically, your licensed physician is the right person.
